Thank you for your kind words. People here are super scared: it is Chinese new year, but there are hardly any cars or people on the streets in Tianjin. All restaurants, cinemas, entertaining places are all closed, even supermarkets have limited opening hours. You need to wear a mask to get on a bus. I can only imagine the situation in Wuhan.

You should stay with your parent till everything is safe for them. They need your help now. We can muddle through it.
Keep us posted.

Hi all,

Domestic and international travels in China are temporarily suspended. Will keep you posted when I can return.

Hope all is well. Meanwhile, electrons are free to travel. Email when you need me.

Whitney
